

The Advertiser, Friday, April 8, 2005

GOING IN CIRCLES: Patrick Conlon takes a Segway urban transporter for a spin outside Parliament.

Standing orders for Transport Minister

The WHIP

Jemma Chapman

ON Wednesday he was spinning in circles, yesterday he was doing stand-up. Transport Minister Patrick Conlon has been quite the performer in recent days.

Businessman Peter Karidis was showing Mr Conlon how to use one of his Segway "urban transporters". Mr Karidis believes the law is ambiguous and wants the Transport Act amended to make it clear that use of the two-wheel stand-up gophers is legal. Mr Conlon agreed to consider the matter after taking the Segway for a somewhat shaky test-drive. "I probably don't need one for a little while yet, I hope," he said.

□ □ □